PROJECT NAME
Powell Residence

Engineered for strength...
designed for beauty

The engineering and design flexibility of CornerStone®100 played a key role in the Powell Residence project by helping to solve a number of problems on the site. The new wall expanded the usable outdoor living area by converting a backyard containing a steep slope, into a level, enjoyable sitting area, playground area and back lawn. Tiered walls provided a number of planting areas and other landscaping options that enhanced the aesthetic beauty of this waterside project.
