The Challenge: To create a pleasing, liveable outdoor space in the backyard of this upscale residential project.

The Solution: Faced with a steeply sloping residential lot with restricted space, the design team opted to create a stunning 14-foot high StoneLedge Ashlar retaining wall. The StoneLedge wall features two separate tiers, allowing for the planting of a striking mixture of plants and shrubs to further define and highlight the natural contours of the property.

The Result: An attractive and functional outdoor living space in complete harmony with the house and the surrounding landscape.
